

Integra Technology Consulting Achieves Coveted Certified Advantage Partner Status from Oracle

Boston, MA – December 11, 2007 – Integra Technology Consulting, a full service systems integrator specializing in Oracle's Technology, Ebusiness Suite Applications and Business Intelligence solutions, recently achieved Certified Advantage Partner status in the Oracle® PartnerNetwork. As a Certified Advantage Partner, Integra has demonstrated the highest level of product knowledge, technical expertise, and an ongoing commitment to delivering Oracle solutions.

Certified Advantage Partner designation is Oracle's highest partner level, which only a small portion of Oracle's 4,000+ North America partners have achieved. "This Partner status represents an assurance that Integra consultants have the business, functional and technical skills needed to implement or upgrade Oracle Database Technologies, E-business Suite Applications and Business Intelligence solutions. This, combined with our industry expertise, allows Integra to become powerful partners with our clients," said Doug Catalano, managing partner at Integra.

Dan Scheib, VP of Alliances, Commercial Applications at Oracle said, "Integra has been a strong supporter of Oracle in the marketplace, providing quality services to our mutual customers on both the Technology and Applications side of our business. We are very pleased to see this formalized in the CAP relationship."

By achieving Certified Advantage Partner status Integra will be able to leverage the Oracle Accelerator implementation tools that facilitate the delivery of customized yet affordable solutions to address the unique requirements of each customer. Oracle's rapid implementation tools - Business Accelerators - are a key component of the Oracle Accelerate program. Business Accelerators feature an automated setup tool that configures end-to-end business flows to help decrease cost, risk and implementation time. The setup tool captures responses to simple questions about specific business requirements and then automatically applies that information to the application implementation.
